

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

This is a clear example of biased reporting and control by corporate offices over local stations, regardless of station management beliefs.

Please take action today to persuade Sinclair to cease biased reporting and remind them of their lawful obligations.
